Hong Kong Sinfonietta appoints German conductor Christoph Poppen as Music Director from April 2023

Hong Kong Sinfonietta is pleased to announce the appointment of German conductor Christoph Poppen as their new Music Director starting from the 2023/2024 season. The announcement was made on 1 Feb 2023 by Music Director Emeritus Yip Wing-sie and Chief Executive Officer Margaret Yang at a press conference held at Four Seasons Hotel Hong Kong, where Chairman of the Board of Governors Dr Patrick S C Poon hosted the signing ceremony.

“I am deeply honoured to become the new Music Director of Hong Kong Sinfonietta”, said Music Director Designate Christoph Poppen. “Having worked with the orchestra for several years as its Principal Guest Conductor, our connection has been growing in a very healthy and fruitful way. Our collaboration, not only with the members of the orchestra but also with Music Director Emeritus Yip Wing-sie, CEO Margaret Yang and the wonderful management team, is built on mutual trust and friendship. I am looking forward to many unforgettable concerts here and hopefully in many other countries with Hong Kong Sinfonietta, which will continue to play its role as cultural ambassador of Hong Kong all over the world.”

Margaret Yang, Chief Executive Officer of Hong Kong Sinfonietta said, “Hong Kong Sinfonietta must be one of the luckiest orchestras in the world – where we have not only a Music Director but also a Music Director Emeritus who will always be there for us. Being the CEO of this unique organisation, I am blessed with the best of both worlds, with Christoph and his wonderful insights and experience – and Wing-sie, as a totally supportive figure, both of whom I know I can totally entrust the artistic future of the orchestra. I am sure that Hong Kong Sinfonietta will not only be moving forward as a ‘tour-de-force’ under the leadership of our new Music Director, but will break even more barriers and new grounds, bringing the best in classical music in all shapes and forms, for the people of Hong Kong, and beyond.”

Conductor, soloist, chamber musician and pedagogue, Christoph Poppen has made a name for himself in diverse roles in the international musical world, and is currently Principal Conductor of the Cologne Chamber Orchestra, Principal Guest Conductor of the Israel Chamber Orchestra, and Artistic Director of the Marvão International Music Festival. He was Music Director of the Deutsche Radio Philharmonie from 2007-2011 and Artistic Director of the Munich Chamber Orchestra from 1995-2006, establishing the ensembles' profiles in a short period of time. As a prize-winning violinist who co-founded the Cherubini Quartet, he has performed at prestigious venues around the world and won great critical acclaim with his CD recordings in the 1980s and 1990s.

As Hong Kong Sinfonietta's Principal Guest Conductor since 2015, he has presented to the Hong Kong audience a rich repertoire ranging from Austro-German masterpieces to contemporary works, and brought the orchestra on tour to Germany and Portugal. During the COVID pandemic, he frequently travelled to Hong Kong despite the strict quarantine requirements to perform for the local audience, as well as take part in the filming of Hong Kong Sinfonietta's concert films Back On Stage II (Quarantined!) and Back On Stage III: DESTINY, winning wide acclaim in the city and beyond. Tirelessly passionate about nurturing the next generation of great artists, he has taken up the position of Co-chair of the 1st and 2nd Hong Kong International Conducting Competition, taught at the Hong Kong International Conducting Workshop and held violin masterclasses during his past visits.

At the press conference, Hong Kong conductor Vivian Ip was also appointed Associate Conductor of Hong Kong Sinfonietta from the 2023/2024 season, and it was announced that local visual artist Vivian Ho would extend her tenure as HKS Artist Associate into the 2023/2024 season, continuing her brilliant work in retelling the beauty of classical music through her unique and vibrant artwork.
